* Our currency exchange rates are updated throughout each day and it is the User's responsibility to check the applicable rates in our app before proceeding with transactions involving an exchange of currency. In most currencies, we will add a margin to the mid-market exchange rate provided by XE.

We are not a bureau de change (currency exchange). We are not responsible for any loss due to changes in exchange rate.

If the transfer method is not an instant method, the exchange rate as described above will be applied when we are provided a confirmation of the transfer by our payment processor *
